

Enabling Integrated eCommerce for the Aviation Aftermarket

Solution Summary

SalesEdge™ Commerce provides a fully integrated commerce platform enabling suppliers to sell online directly to their customers.

The solution includes a

- Your ERP (Quantum Control or CORRIDOR)
- And ILS Marketplace presence extending the value of the systems you already have

Provide Great Customer Experiences

Offer aviation parts buyers convenient buying experiences in your online store – open 24/7 – and attract them via your marketplace presence and company website. Provide account-specific pricing and terms, ensuring a personalized and customer-centric approach to every transaction.

Protect Your Investments

Protect the investments in all the workflows, brand, and intellectual property you have built. Ensure a strong and resilient infrastructure with a storefront that is natively integrated with your existing ILS marketplace presence as well as CORRIDOR or Quantum ERP. Grow your enterprise value without any compromises in quality or security.

Grow Markets And Sales Productivity

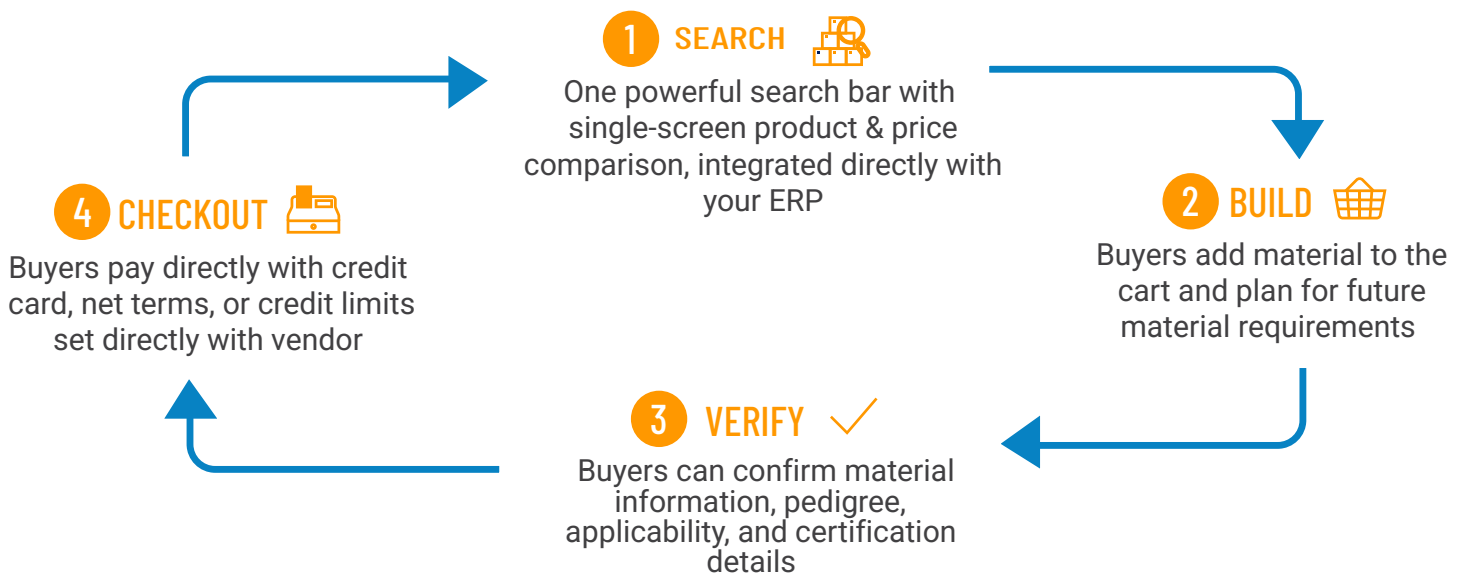

Expand your market reach with an easily accessible online storefront, allowing you to tap into a broader geographic customer base. Elevate both your sales and back-office efficiency, and enable your sales team to concentrate on higher-value opportunities, maximizing revenue potential.

Payment Functionality

Buyer experience during the checkout process will replicate how they purchase with their supplier today and offer credit card options for new customers. The native ERP integration enables buyers to use their accounts and purchase within available credit limits, net terms, or execute a transaction directly with credit card.

Implementation And Support

Configuration and deployment services are included as well as proactive monitoring and customer support is provided by a centralized Storefront, Marketplace & ERP support team.

“

We can't be bogged down by having to integrate various systems with uncertified APIs from unproven vendors. SalesEdge™ Commerce is the right system for our needs

— Cole Popplewell, Aircraft Accessories of Oklahoma